Medical.

Hoofland's German Bitters,

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

Hoofland's German Bitters

Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,

Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.

Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

Those who have no objection to the combination of the Bitters, as stated, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable.

The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathizing as closely as it does with the Stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heart-burn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from his investigations and inquiries possesses true merit, is skilfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit those well-known remedies—

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

PREPARED BY Dr. C. M. JACKSON,
PHILADELPHIA, PA

Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.

These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Disease of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY,

Resulting from any Cause whatever;
PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM,
induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, etc.

There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,

And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.

It is a well-established fact that fully one-half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; or, to use their own expression, "never feel well." They are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.

To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN

Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail.

Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.

HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Penna., writes:
Philadelphia, March 16, 1867.

"I find 'Hoofland's German Bitters' is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action in the system. Yours, truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD."

HON. JAMES THOMPSON,
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
Philadelphia, April 28, 1866.

"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia, I can certify this from my experience of it.
Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON."

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,
Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.
Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates st.

FROM REV. E. D. FENDALL,
Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia.

I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver. Yours, truly,
E. D. FENDALL.

Sewing Machines.

THE HOWE MACHINE CO.'S SEWING MACHINES,

699 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

These World-renowned Sewing Machines were awarded the Highest Premium at the World's Fair, in London, and six First Premiums at the N. Y. State Fair of 1866, and are celebrated for doing the best work, using a much smaller needle for the same thread than any other machine, and by the introduction of the most approved machinery, we are now able to supply the very best machines in the world.

These machines are made at our new and spacious Factory at Bridgeport, Conn., under the immediate supervision of the President of the Company, ELIAS HOWE, Jr., the original inventor of the Sewing Machine.

They are adapted to all kinds of Family Sewing, and to the use of Seamstresses, Dress Makers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Collars, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Boots, Shoes, Harness, Saddles, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols, etc. They work equally well upon silk, linen, cotton or woolen goods with silk, cotton or linen thread. They will seam, quilt, gather, hem, fell, cord, braid, bind and perform every species of sewing, making a beautiful and perfect stitch, alike on both sides of the article sewed.

The Stitch invented by Mr. HOWE, and made on this Machine, is the most popular and durable, and all Sewing Machines are subject to the principle invented by him. Send for Circulars.

SEWING MACHINES!

THE GROVER & BAKER.

THE BEST IN USE.—These Machines have become so well known that little need be said by way of recommendation. They have taken the first premium at all the late State Fairs, and are universally acknowledged to be the BEST in use by all who have tried them. The "Grover & Baker Stitch" and the "Shuttle Stitch" are points that have been attained by no other Machine.—They are the only Machines that sew and embroider with perfection. These Machines are peculiarly adapted to Family use. They are almost noiseless, sew directly from the spool without rewinding, and are simple in their construction. They are easy to manage, and can be worked by almost any child. Every family should have one. They save labor, they save time, and they save money, and do their work better than it can be done by hand.

The undersigned having been appointed Agent for the above Machines, has established an Agency in Fairfield, Adams co., where he will always have on hand a supply. Persons wishing to buy will please call and examine for themselves.

☞Needles and Thread will also be supplied.

The Star and Sentinel.

[FOR THE "STAR AND SENTINEL."

TO A FRIEND.

BY J. HOWARD WERT.

The stars are bright with beauteous light,
The moon-beams soft are glowing;
In joy or ill, I feel the thrill—
The magic overflowing
From nature's choir ascending higher
With every orb's pulsation,
With ceaseless praise to endless days,
And loftier aspiration:

That sin may end, and all may blend
In life's complete fruition,
The bond of love commenced above
Before our world's creation.
No jar is there, but through the air,
Chants to the stilly night,
From realms above, God's boundless love,
Once sung by angels bright.

Yet I, who know that sorrow's blow
Leads to a life diviner;
That every ill conducts us still
To heights of love sublimer,
May join that strain—that world's refrain
In key subdued and minor;
And in my sphere of duty here
Sing Love—the great refiner.

Some human hearts ambition parts
That God would join together,
That they might cheer each other here,
Through calm or stormy weather:
Sweet friend for thee my prayer shall be
No fate like this may sever—
May over part thy loving heart
From one who loves thee ever.

Though absent now, whene'er I bow
Before the bounteous Giver,
There comes from me a prayer for thee,
That, down life's winding river,
A light may guide thy bark beside
To God's mysterious portal;
And, life complete, that we may meet
On plains of LIFE immortal.

[FOR THE "STAR AND SENTINEL."

RESPECT FOR PARENTS.

If children could realize but a small portion of the anxiety their parents feel on their account, they would pay far greater respect to the parental wishes. A good child, and one in whom confidence can be placed, is the one who does not allow himself to disobey his parents, nor do anything when his parents are absent, that he has reason to believe they would disapprove were they present. The good advice of parents is often engraven on the heart of the child, that after years of care and toil will not efface; and in the hour of temptation the thought of a parent has been the salvation of the child, though the parent may be sleeping in the grave, and ocean may roll between the sacred spot and the tempted child. A small token of parental affection, borne about the person, especially a parent's likeness, would frequently prove a talisman for good. A Polish prince was accustomed to carry the picture of his father in his bosom; and on any particular occasion he would look upon it and say: "Let me do nothing unbecoming so excellent a father."—Such respect for a father or mother, is one of the best traits in the character of a son or daughter. "Honor thy father and thy mother that it may be well with thee, is the first commandment with promise," says the sacred book, and happy is the child who acts accordingly. J. S. G.

HOW RAMSEY PAID HIS RENT.—Wit is sometimes worth money, but then it is quite essential to have a good-natured customer to to deal with.

When Allen Ramsey, a well-known Scotch poet, began life he was so poor that he could not meet his first half-year's rent. After it became due he met his landlord, and explained his circumstances, and expressed his distress at his failure to meet his obligations.

The jolly landlord was quite kind to him, and said that as he was a lad of some genius, he would give him a chance to cancel his debt without paying a shilling. "If," said the creditor, "you'll give me a rhyming answer to four questions in so many minutes, I'll quit you the rent altogether."

Allen said he would try. The questions were, "What does God love? What does the devil love? What does the world love? What do I love?"

Ramsey wrote:

"God loves man when he refrains from sin,
Th' devil loves man when he persists therein,
The world loves man when riches on him flow,
And you'd love me could I pay you what I owe."

"The rent is paid," said the farmer, giving his ingenious tenant a hearty slap on the shoulders.

A DIFFICULT IRISHMAN.—An Irishman in a witness box is proverbially a difficult subject. That others have found Patrick a slippery colt to chase, appears from the following anecdote:

The captain of a steamboat, seeing an Irishman smoking away abaft the funnel, stepped up to him and said:

"Don't you see the notice stuck up yonder?"

"D'ye mane that bit o' painted tin?"

"To be sure I do."

"Shure I say it."

"Why don't you follow it?"

"I havn't sayno it move; it's nailed fast, I'm considerin."

"I mean, haven't you read that notice?"

"Divil a bit; shure I don't know how to rade."

"Well, it says, no smoking allowed here."

"Be the powers, it doesn't consarn me a mite, then, for I never smoked aloud in my life."

HOW IT WAS DONE.—An Irishman, addicted to telling queer stories, said he saw a man beheaded with his hands tied behind him, who directly picked up his head, and put it on his shoulders in the right place.

"Ha! ha!" said a by-stander; "how could he pick up his head when his hands were tied behind him?"

"An' sure what a purty fool ye are," said Pat. "Couldn't he pick it up with his tathe?"

A CERTAIN Judge, pronouncing sentence of death upon an Irishman, said: "You shall be taken to the place of execution, and there be hanged by the neck until you are dead; and may God have mercy on your soul!"—At this the prisoner exclaimed, "Hold there, Judge. I want none of your prayers, for I never knew any one to live long after you prayed for him."

A GLASGOW merchant, on his death-bed, sent for a Free Church clergyman. Having some fears regarding his future prospects, he asked the minister, "Do you think if I were to leave £10,000 to the Free Kirk, that my soul would be saved?" "Well," answered the cautious minister, "I couldn't just promise you that; but I think its an experiment worth trying."

RECONSTRUCTION.

SPEECH OF HON. WM. H. KOONTZ, OF PENNSYLVANIA,

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
January 20, 1868.

The House having under consideration the bill (H. R. No. 439) additional and supplementary to an act entitled "An act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," passed March 2, 1867—

Mr. KOONTZ said:

Mr. SPEAKER: This bill has been pretty thoroughly discussed on both sides of the House, and I will endeavor, in as brief a time as possible, to present to the consideration of the House my reasons for supporting the measure. In discussing this bill there are three things to be considered; first, what is proposed to be done by the bill? second, has Congress the power to pass it? third, is there now such a presssing public necessity as calls upon Congress for the passage of the bill?

This bill proposes to declare that in the late rebellious States "there are no civil State governments republican in form, and that the so-called civil governments in said States, respectively, shall not be recognized as valid or legal State governments either by the executive or judicial power or authority of the United States."

The bill also proposes to confer upon the General of the Army the power "to enjoin by special orders, upon all officers in command within the several military departments within said several States, the performance of all acts authorized by said several laws above recited, and to remove by his order from command any or all of said commanders and detail other officers of the United States Army, not below the rank of colonel, to perform all the duties and exercise all the powers authorized by said several acts."

The bill also confers upon the General of the Army the power of removal from and appointment to the civil offices under those several provisional governments. It further declares that "it shall be unlawful for the President of the United States to order any part of the Army or Navy of the United States to assist by force of arms the authority of either of said provisional governments in said disorganized States to oppose or obstruct the authority of the United States as provided in this act and the act to which this is supplementary."

Then there is added a section making it a penal offense for any person to attempt to prevent by force the execution of the orders of the General of the Army.

These, sir, are in brief the provisions of the bill. The next question is, has Congress the lawful power and authority to pass this measure? And, sir, in asserting the power of Congress over this question it becomes necessary to sustain the allegation of fact contained in the first section of the bill, that in those States there are no civil State governments republican in form; for, sir, I concede that if it be not true in point of fact that there are no such civil governments in those States then this proposed legislation and all the legislation of Congress pertaining to the question of reconstruction is wrong; but if, on the other hand, it be true in point of fact that there are no valid State governments in those States, then I apprehend that gentlemen on all sides of this House will concede that there is necessity for some legislation, either in the shape of this bill or some other.

Now, sir, is it true that there are no loyal State governments in those States? I maintain that it is. I do not deny that prior to 1861 there were legal State governments in those States holding their true relation to the Government of the United States, and acting harmoniously with the other States of the Union, under the Constitution, the supreme law of the land. But I assert that those governments were overthrown by traitors; that they were seized by men whose hearts were filled with treason, and all, or nearly all, of the legislative, executive, and judicial officers of those States assisted in carrying them outside of the Government of the United States.

It is necessary, sir, to briefly allude to some of the leading events of that period. A Republican President had been elected in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution of the United States; but because he and his party were of a different political faith to theirs they seized upon what they considered a favorable opportunity to enforce their long cherished doctrine of State rights. For many years the political leaders of the South had been promulgating the wicked and dangerous theory that it was within the power of any one of the States, at its pleasure, to sever its connection with the Government of the United States, and the election of a President by the Republican party was made the pretext for rebellion; and I would here remind gentlemen who are continually denouncing the Republican party for what they allege to be its unconstitutional acts, that in the election of Abraham Lincoln that party was strictly within the limits of the Constitution, and that the leaders of the rebellion not only disregarded the plain provisions of the Constitution in refusing to abide by that election, but engaged in their unholy work before his Administration had come into power and without waiting to see whether, so far as they were concerned, he would not take care that the laws of the land were faithfully executed. It will be remembered that they passed their ordinances of secession, and by the most solemn legislative enactment declared that their States were no longer bound to the General Government. Not only that, but they seized upon all the public property within the limits of those States. They seized upon the forts, arsenals, mints, custom-houses, navy-yards, and all the property belonging to the United States Government therein. They went further, sir; they elected their representatives and sent them to Montgomary, Alabama, and there they united together under another government, formed a constitution for themselves, and adopted a flag different from the flag of our fathers. By the most solemn forms of law they created a separate and independent government, with the avowed intent and purpose of destroying the Government of the United States.

And, sir, for four long years they wielded the power of this great and tremendous organization, extending over ten States, a vast empire in themselves, holding within and under its control ten million people, and with almost unlimited resources, for the purpose of destroying the Government which had been framed by Washington and his compeers.—They were unsuccessful, but I need not remind gentlemen on this floor of the tremendous cost to the loyal people of the country in precious blood and treasure to maintain the unity and integrity of this Government.

Now, sir, during these four years of civil war where rested the legal power and authority of the United States Government? I answer that they were with the loyal, adhering, organized States of the Union. Does any gentleman on the other side say that the legislation for those ten States during that time was wrong because they were in armed rebellion? Will they deny that the legislation necessary to carry on the Government within the organized States was illegal, unconstitutional, and void because those ten States happened to be in organized revolt? Was not the legislative, executive, and judicial power of the Government of the United States fully recognized by the people of the loyal States during that time?

Mr. MUNGEN. We get appeals to this side of the House, and I should like to answer.

Mr. KOONTY. Not now. I answer that during the time that those States were outside of the Government, so far as they could place themselves, the sovereign power of the nation was represented in the organized States of the Union. He would be a bold man, indeed, who would controvert this position; for to deny the authority of the law abiding, organized States to wield the sovereign power of the Government during an insurrection or rebellion in others, would be equivalent to an admission that the bare organization of rebellion in any section of the country would of itself work a dissolution of the Government, for those not in revolt would be powerless to prevent it. But not only were the legal power and authority of the Government of the United States vested in the organized States by recognition of the loyal people but they were recognized by foreign nations. The United States of America did not in the eyes of other Powers cease to be a nation because a portion thereof was in rebellion, but its dignity and sovereign power were as fully acknowledged by them as before.

Now, sir, if the proposition be true that during the rebellion the legal power and authority of the United States remained in the loyal States, when did that power cease over the disorganized communities? When the war ended, say the rebels; when Lee surrendered, say the Democratic party. This would be equivalent to saying that there should be no penalty for treason, for there would be no power to impose it, as the guilty would have an equal voice with the guiltless in settling the controversy. Against this doctrine the loyal people protest, earnestly protest, and insist that the terms of settlement shall be fixed by them; that as the power and jurisdiction of a court over the criminal attach until the sentence is pronounced, so the power and jurisdiction of the loyal States attach and remain over the disorganized part until all the questions springing up and arising out of the rebellion have been fully and entirely settled.

But, sir, if those States were not entirely overthrown, gentlemen will admit with the President of the United States, as they now seem to have come to his position, that they required at least some legislative or executive action in their behalf, because they were so far disorganized as to require it, to set them on foot again. The President recognized this when he declared that they were without civil governments, and undertook to assume the power of legislation on this question. He recognized the fact that their civil governments had been overthrow when he established provisional governments for them. We only differed with him so far in asserting that the question of reconstructing these States was with the Congress of the United States and not in the hands of the Executive.

Then, sir, to establish the point I am making, namely, that these are not valid civil governments, I deny that they are such, because they are the creatures of executive power and not of legislative authority. It was a question that belonged exclusively to Congress and not to any other co-ordinate branch of the Government.

But I object to these governments further because they have had the breath of life breathed into them for the purpose of reviving the fell spirit of treason that for four long years spread disasters and sorrow throughout the land.

Now, sir, I think I have clearly shown that the power of this Government belongs to the loyal States of the Union, those that remained true to it during the civil war. Then the only question remaining is, is there a public necessity for this bill?

I urge, in the first place, that there is a necessity for the passage of this bill to protect the loyal men of those States. Does any man doubt, from all the evidence we have had during the last two years, that if the military power is withdrawn from these States the loyal men, black and white, will be entirely under the control of the rebels, who will have an ascendency as complete and effectual as when Lee held indisputed power over the whole region?

It is needed, further, to prevent the obstacles that have been thrown in the way of reconstruction. We have had obstacles not only on account of the construction of the law, as was stated by my colleague, but in adverse executive action; and in order that all obstacles may be removed in the way of the policy of Congress, it is necessary that this question should be under the control of the General of the Army and not of so many different military commanders. We would thus be relieved of the difficulty that exists under the present law, of having one policy for Louisiana and another for Virginia.

But it is needed, further, because the rebels and their sympathising friends in the North refused to accept the generous terms that were offered by the Thirty-Ninth Congress.—That Congress offered a plan of settlement of these difficulties so fair and generous that no honest mind could controvert it; and yet these people, aided and encouraged by the President of the United States and by the Democratic party of the North, refused to accept the generous terms proffered in the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States. Therefore it becomes necessary that Congress should excise its authority and demand that other terms shall be acceeded to by them since they have refused to accept so generous an offer. Indeed, the terms of settlement contained in these several reconstruction bills are more generous than were ever offered to a vanquished foe before. A magnanimous people demand neither the lives nor property of their late enemies; but they do insist that they shall only be restored to political power in the Union upon the conditions prescribed by the loyal people of the country.

These, sir, are in brief my reasons for advocating this bill, and I propose now to advert to a few arguments—I can hardly say a few, because it seems to me there is but a single argument advanced on the other side against this bill. The whole cry is that this bill is unconstitutional. Sir, all the reconstruction bills that have been passed by this and the preceding Congress have been denounced by gentlemen on the other side as unconstitutional. This is the old cry repeated. We heard it at the beginning of the war. We were then told it was unconstitutional to coerce a State; that it was unconstitutional to call out armies and defend the capitol of the nation; that it was unconstitutional to draft men into the armies of the United States; that it was unconstitutional to issue money to pay the soldiers who were drafted; that it was unconstitutional and wrong to arm the negro. In short, every measure that was advocated by the Republican party in these Halls for the suppression of this infamous rebellion has been denounced by the Democratic party as unconstitutional. They seem to assume, or rather they do assume, that they are the especial guardians and protectors of the Constitution. I desire, in the brief moments that are left me, to point to some of their own acts in regard to the Constitution.

It will be remembered, in 1860, when the conscience of the people had become aroused by the aggressive spirit of slavery, and had brought into life and being a party that planted itself upon the ground of opposition to the extension of that institution, that John J. Crittenden, a Senator from Kentucky, offered in the other branch of Congress a series of resolutions to perpetuate the course of human bondage. He proposed to place in the Constitution of the United States that word which James Madison refused to permit to go in. He was willing not only to insert the word "slave" in the Constitution but to dedicate the whole of that vast empire south of 36 deg. 30 min., to the course of slavery.—That was Democratic doctrine then. The Constitution might, by their consent, be changed, provided it would be to the interest of the slave power.

We go a step further. After the Montgomery constitution had been adopted there was a portion of the Democratic party that was willing to run the line north of Pennsylvania and to exclude New England from the Union. They proposed to take in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, and as many western States as chose to come in, and adopt the Montgomery constitution for the purpose, as they said, of leaving New England out in the cold.

Sir, let, me say that New England will not be kept out in the cold, and the reason of it in brief is this, that she is true now to the cause of human liberty as she was when the Mayflower landed her precious charge upon her shores and

"The sounding aisles of the dim woods rang
To the anthem of the free."

But, sir, in answer to the gentleman upon the other side who claim that the Democratic party is the great protector and defender of the Constitution, I want to point out to gentlemen upon all sides of this House this significant fact, that when the great unconstitutional work of this century was undertaken, namely, organized rebellion in ten States for the purpose of breaking up and destroying this Union, never during all that time was there promulgated from a Democratic State Convention or from a Democratic State committee a single authoritative enunciation expressive of their indignation at the great unconstitutional work that the rebels were engaged in; no, not one. And permit me to say now that if that party had denounced that great unconstitutional work with half the zeal and half the energy with which they have denounced the measures that were necessary to put down the rebellion, and that are necessary to keep it down, the war would have ended a year sooner than it did; $1,000,000,000 of public debt would have been saved to the Government, and many firesides would now have chairs occupied that are vacant. This was the policy of that party that has assumed to act as the special defenders of the Constitution. Let me add another item on this point. I remember that in the latter part June, 1863, the news spread abroad throughout the North that General Lee was advancing upon the State of Pennsylvania, and soon that news was confirmed, and the invaders stood upon the soil of Pennsylvania. At that very time there was a democratic State convention sitting in the capitol at Harrisburg, and although the enemy was ready to carry destruction and devastation throughout the broad limits of the Commonwealth, and, indeed, the whole North, if it had been in his power, not one word in condemnation of the rebellion or denunciation of the unconstitutional work its leaders were engaged in went out from that convention; and yet, sir, this is the party that professes to speak for the Constitution.

Mr. BOYER. Mr. Speaker——

Mr. KOONTZ. My time is nearly out. I would like to yield to my colleague, but I cannot.

Sir, I think I have effectually answered the claim that the Democratic party has set up to be considered the special guardian and protector of the Constitution of the United States.—We maintain that the power we have had ever since the war began, the power that belonged to the remaining organized States of this Union to crush and destroy the rebellion, remains with us until every vestige of treason is destroyed. And if the provisional governments in these States, created without any authority of law, are to be made instruments to reinstate treason in the high places of this Government, then they must just as surely fall as did the military power of the rebellion before the invincible armies of the Republic. We claim that this bill is necessary to a proper enforcement of the reconstruction acts heretofore passed, and to a just and fair settlement of this vexed question.

In conclusion, sir, permit me to say that we are now engaged in rebuilding the foundations of this great Government that have been shaken by the fierce tempest of civil war.—Treason did its work in attempting to pull down and destroy, let it be the work of loyal hands to build up, beautify, and adorn this temple of liberty. Let us see to it that the loyal people are protected throughout the limits of the whole country; that equal and exact justice to all men shall be the rule by which the Republic is guided, and then we shall have faithfully executed the trust committed to us.

SOME years ago a clergyman was preaching to a large audience in a wild part of Illinois, and pronounced for his text, "In my Father's house are many mansions." He had scarcely read the words when an old man stood up and said, "I tell you folks, that's a lie! I know his father well. He lives fifteen miles from old Kentuck, in an old log cabin, and there ain't but one room in the house."

AMONG the guests at a crowded hotel in a country town, during court time, was a burly, noisy, rude fellow, who entered the dining-room late to find himself crowded out of his place at the table, when he commenced to upbraid the company as a "drove of hungry hogs," when a quickwitted young lawyer rose and rhymed him down as follows:

"In droves of hogs my friend, you'll always find
The biggest hog of all the drove behind."

MRS. JONES, a farmer's wife in Connecticut, says: "I b'lieve I've got the tenderest-hearted boys in the world. I can't tell one of 'em to fetch a pail of water, but he'll burst out crying."

A DOCTOR'S wife attempted to move him by her tears. "Ann," said he, "tears are useless. I have analyzed them. They contain a little phosphate of lime, some chlorate of sodium, and water."

IT is said that Mr. Bonner, who likes to have everybody who is anybody to write for the Ledger, asked General Grant to become also a contributor; and that the Generol told him, "You may print my speeches."

A LITTLE boy in New Bedford, Mass., in giving an account to his brother of the Garden of Eden, said: "The Lord made a gardener, and put him in the garden to take care of it, and to see that nobody hurt anything, or pasted bills on the trees."

A MAN who had filed a petition for divorce was informed by his counsel that his wife had filed a "cross petition," as lawyers call it.—"A cross petition," exclaimed the husband; "that's just like her. She never did a good-natured thing in her life."

THE WAY THE "DEMOCRACY" CARRY ELECTIONS.

A Rich Expose.

An interesting contested election case is now in progress before a committee of the State Senate at Harrisburg, that of ROBINSON vs. SHUGART, from the Centre and Mifflin (21st) District. The certificate was granted to SHUGART, Democrat. His majority, if our memory serves us right, was less than a hundred. ROBINSON alleges that a large number of fraudulent votes were cast in the District, more than enough to wipe out the majority of his opponent. The testimony taken by the committee shows that at least sixty men voted at Philipsburg, Centre county, on naturalization certificates purporting to have been issued by the Court of Luzerne county on the 28th of September, 1866. The Prothonotary of Luzerne, an Irish Democrat, after comparing these papers with the naturalization record, testified that no persons bearing such names had been naturalized in that court at that time. Being shown one of the naturalization papers, he testified that the printed part was similar to the genuine blanks used by him, and that the seal on it looked like the impression of the genuine seal; but that the signature was not his, nor was the filling up in the handwriting of himself or any of his clerks. The men who cast the fraudulent votes at Philipsburg, were workmen from the railroad which is being built in Clearfield county to connect with the road completed to Philipsburg, and it is alleged that the whole thing was managed by WALLACE, the Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee.

An Irishman named CASEY was one of the witnesses who testified to the manner in which the fraudulent voting was done, and by whom it was conducted. On the evening of Jan. 28th, when CASEY was returning home from Harrisburg, he was set upon, near Clearfield, by several persons, supposed to be some of the railroad hands, and beaten so badly that he died from the effects of the injuries on the morning of the 1st of February, never having recovered his reason to designate who were his murderers. That this man was murdered for having testified to these frauds, is doubted by none, and we are glad to see that a resolution has been passed by the Legislature authorizing the Governor to offer a reward of $2,000 for the apprehension of the perpetrators of this foul murder.

It is alleged that proof will be presented to show that forged certificates were issued by the thousands in Luzerne county, and that they were sold openly in Scranton and Wilksbarre for $1.75 each. Little doubt exists that two Democratic State Senators were elected with them last fall. Judge SHARSWOOD was elected with them. Judge WOODWARD was elected with them. And they intend to carry the State next fall with them, if their schemes are not frustrated.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON has made a new move on the chess board, the meaning of which puzzles politicians at Washington. The President, as soon as he was informed of the action of the Reconstruction Committee (in voting down the impeachment resolutions of Mr. STEVENS), immediately sent the name of Lieutenant General SHERMAN to the Senate for confirmation as General by brevet. Leading Senators regard this as an improper nomination, there being no law by which such a brevet can be made. The law by which both the General and Lieutenant General hold their commissions is a special enactment for these special cases, they not being line officers, so it will fail in the Senate. Simultaneously with this is an order creating a new Department of the East headquarters at Washington, and assigning General SHERMAN to its command. The movement excites a good deal of speculation, many regarding it as an effort to get SHERMAN into a position where he will rank with GRANT, and be used to put some indignity upon the latter. But the effort will prove abortive, as the relations between GRANT and SHERMAN are of the most friendly character, and the latter, detecting the trap, indignantly declines to be used to serve the President's purposes against his friend and fellow soldier. In a telegram to his brother, Senator SHERMAN, the General positively refuses to accept the proposed brevet rank of General in the United States Army, even should President JOHNSON'S recommendation be endorsed by the Senate.

In the House, on Friday, Mr. WILSON gave notice of his intention to offer a resolution inquiring by what law Mr. JOHNSON created the new Department to which he has assigned General SHERMAN.

THE La Crosse Democrat (Brick Pomeroy's paper,) has opened its batteries on Gen. GRANT, because he refuses to train in the interest of treason, and the Copperhead presses throughout the country follow suit. Hitherto GRANT has been simply "a butcher" and the director of "slaughter pens" during the war—now he is proclaimed a "drunkard" and a "liar." These same worthies in times past denounced HARRISON as a "granny and a coward," CLAY as a "blackleg and duellist," TAYLOR as an "ignoramus and imbecile," SCOTT as a "popinjay and a poltroon," and Lincoln as a "buffoon and blackguard." The whole trouble is that the Copperheads dread the idea of GRANT taking the field against them, and in view of certain defeat have commenced the old game of "making mouths."

AN act of Congress has recently passed, and been approved, allowing the "legislatures of each State to determine the manner and place of taxing all the shares of National banks located within said State, subject to the restriction that the taxation shall not be at a greater rate than is assessed upon other moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens of such State. The shares of non-residents are to be taxed in the city or town where the said bank is located."

ON our first page will be found the Speech of our Representative, Hon WM. H. KOONTZ, on Reconstruction, to which we alluded a few weeks ago. It is brief and to the point, presenting the real issue between the two great parties clearly and sharply, and will repay a careful perusal.

JOHNSON'S VERACITY.

JOHNSON'S tilt with GRANT, on a matter of personal veracity, has re-acted against him. It has established his own guilt in trying to circumvent the laws of the land; and has vindicated GRANT as a law-abiding, straight-forward, honest man. JOHNSON'S Cabinet do not sustain his declarations. The only two who undertake to give a statement of the interview (BROWNING and SEWARD) sustain GRANT'S version of the conversation, on every essential point. The secret of the whole transaction is that JOHNSON expects to be the Copperhead candidate for the Presidency; and, thinking that GRANT will be the Republican, he sought to entrap the latter, and effect his ruin. He has disgracefully failed.

His controversies have generally resulted disastrously to him. He made a point of veracity with Speaker COLFAX, on the point whether or not the latter had recommended the calling of an extra session of Congress in the early summer of 1865. A gentleman who was present at the time, sustains Mr. COLFAX'S declarations.

JOHNSON in 1863 had a like controversy with Gen. BUELL, asserting, under oath, that BUELL had been prevented from abandoning Nashville to Bragg in 1862 only by JOHNSON'S resolute expostulations. BUELL replied, publicly, denouncing the statement as false. He asserted further that he never intimated to JOHNSON an intention to leave Nashville without a garrison; that there was no discussion between them pro and con on the subject; that the determination to hold Nashville was his own, uninfluenced by JOHNSON in any manner; and that he has not that confidence in JOHNSON'S judgment, or that distrust of his own, to induce him to seek JOHNSON'S counsel.

JOHNSON quietly submitted to this denial, and never undertook to vindicate the truthfulness of his charges. His reputation for veracity—bad as it is—is, we guess, about equal to his merits.—Certainly, his controversy with BUELL, COLFAX, and GRANT has left him with little claim to be considered a reliable, truth-telling man. It illustrates his perversity, that, with such a series of mishaps, he should exhibit such a tendency to make issues involving personal honor.

THE NEXT U. S. SENATE.

Several inaccurate statements have been published, respecting the vacancies which will occur in the U. S. Senate at the close of the Fortieth Congress, March 4, 1869. They will be as follows:

Republicans—Chandler of Michigan; Conness of California; Edmunds of Vermont; Frelinghuysen of New Jersey; Henderson of Missouri; Morgan of New York; Morrill of Maine; Ramsey of Minnesota; Sprague of Rhode Island; Stewart of Nevada; Sumner of Massachusetts; Tipton of Nebraska; Wade of Ohio—13.

Democrats—Bayard of Del.; Buckalew of Pennsylvania; Dixon of Connecticut; Doolittle of Wisconsin; Hendricks of Indiana; Johnson of Maryland; Patterson of Tennessee—7.

Unclassified—Van Winkle of West Virginia.

Of these 21 vacancies, four have been filled: California, Ohio, Maryland and Tennessee, showing a net gain of one to the Copperheads on the present membership.

Of the remaining 17 vacancies, the Republicans may lose one in New Jersey; and, possibly, one in New York and one in Missouri, although the chances are greatly against any loss in the latter two. On the other hand, the Republicans are pretty certain of gaining one in Pennsylvania, and one in Wisconsin, with an exceeding probability of a gain also in Connecticut, and a fair probability of a gain also in Indiana. West Virginia promises to have a distinctive Republican as Van Winkle's successor. In the other States, there will be no changes.

On the whole, the next Senate bids fair to be more strongly Republican than the present, and, with Republican Senators admitted from several of the reconstructed States, their majority would be still greater.

IT is uncertain whether the Constitution in Alabama received the votes of fully one-half the registered voters of the State. In several counties, the election officers refused to open the polls; in others they were open but two of the four days required; in all, the Rebels made the most effective use of all the means in their power to prevent voting. Rebel challengers were at every polls, making lists of the whites who dared to exercise a freeman's right of Suffrage, with a view to publishing the names and driving them from the State—thus reviving one of the old Slave-driving methods of overawing public opinion, and "crushing out" all opposition.

Since the election, many laboring men who dared to vote, have been discharged from employment; and a terrorism established over the entire State. Union men write that they will be driven out, should the Rebel element triumph and get control of the State.

Meanwhile, it has been proposed by Mr. SHERMAN of Ohio, to pass a bill declaring the State of Alabama restored, inasmuch as the entire vote polled was an affirmative one, and the Constitution is in substantial compliance with the Act of Congress. The vote in favor is largely in excess of that polled at any election under JOHNSON'S plan; and, at worst, is very near the number required, viz: one-half of the registered vote.—Had a mere majority been required, the number polled in favor would, no doubt, have been a majority, as the law counted every dead, absent, or indifferent man as against the law, which classes may be safely said to include 20 per cent. of the entire vote.

ON Thursday last Mr. STEVENS secured a vote in the Committee on Reconstruction on a resolution offered by him, recommending the immediate impeachment of the President as guilty of "high crimes and misdemeanors." Mr. S. supported his motion in a very able and caustic speech, when, without further discussion, on motion of Mr. BINGHAM, the resolution was laid on the table by a vote of 6 to 3 Yeas—Messrs. Bingham, Beaman, Hulburd, and Paine (Republicans), and Messrs. Brooks and Beck (Democrats). Nays—Messrs. Stevens, Boutwell, and Farnsworth. (all Republicans). This, we presume, settles the Impeachment question, at least for the present.

THE Indiana Republican Convention meets in Indianapolis to-morrow. Since the withdrawal of SCHUYLER COLFAX the nomination of Hon. CONRAD BAKER, (formerly of Gettysburg,) as Governor is placed beyond a doubt.

GRANT AND JOHNSON.

Last week we gave the substance of the correspondence between the President and Gen. GRANT in regard to the War Department. A question of veracity being involved, and Gen. GRANT having closed the correspondence with a sharp and caustic letter, the President found it desirable to call witnesses to his support, and subsequently addressed the General another long epistle re-asserting his version of the difficulty, accompanied by statements from Secretaries SEWARD, BROWNING, RANDALL, MCCULLOUGH, and WELLS, as to their recollections of what transpired in Cabinet meeting between Gen. GRANT and the President.—The two former write non-committal letters, while the three latter squarely endorse the accuracy of the President's version—all of which Gen. GRANT quietly disposes of in a very brief rejoinder, in which, "without admitting anything contained in these statements where they differ from anything heretofore stated by himself, he proceeds to notice the President's charge of insubordination, which he effectually disposes of by showing that while the President sought to have him (Gen. GRANT) assume the responsibility of ignoring Mr. STANTON as Secretary of War, both the Secretary of the Treasury and Postmaster General were allowed, in official orders, to recognize Secretary STANTON. Either Mr. STANTON is or is not Secretary of War. If not, it is the business of the President to assume the responsibilty of so declaring in general orders, and not ask him (Gen. GRANT) to do what he (the President) evidently recoils from doing. This is Gen. GRANT'S reasoning, and in thus disposing of the President's last philippic remains master of the position.

SPECIMEN DEMOCRACY.

A few days ago "BRICK POMEROY" was reported very sick. The following paragraph from a recent number of his paper, indicates how near he was to the infernal regions:

"Some one says that the Radicals fear Grant will be assassinated. So he will be if he is elected President, and it would not do the country the least harm."

In an article on the approaching Republican National Convention, addressing the Republicans he says:

"Nominate another Abe Lincoln, and the country will produce another John Wilkes Booth, with his sic semper tyrannis, in accordance with the suggestions of the La Crosse Democrat, and the man is even now ready for the work!"

In another column of the same number of the Democrat is the following:

CONFEDERATE FLAG.—We wish a Confederate flag, six feet long or nearly, to place in our sanctum by the side of the National flag—each being American and having floated over men whose bravery never has been surpassed.

It will be remembered that this miscreant justified the assassination of President LINCOLN, and in the issue before us speaks of him as "an inhuman monster, whose excesses and atrocities have caused shuddering humanity to stand aghast with horror." And yet POMEROY claims to have over 100,000 "Democratic" subscribers who approve these atrocious utterances.

The fact that the Democrat has a larger circulation than almost any other paper in the country in the Democratic party, plainly shows that it understands the spirit of the party, and knows how to adapt itself to it.

THE decision of the Supreme Court last week in the Georgia and Mississippi cases, does not necessarily involve the McArdle case. Indeed, the Copperheads say they see special loopholes left by Judge NELSON, through which the Court may crawl to give a judgment in their favor; but the probabilities are that the Court will dismiss the case for want of jurisdiction. The pending motion is to dismiss, which was very strongly argued by Judge HUGHES and Senator TRUMBULL, their point being that the Reconstruction acts do not give jurisdiction to the Court. On the whole, the prevailing impression is now, that the Court will decline to get mixed up with the political questions of the day. This is best for the Court and country, and is in harmony with the general course of the Court from the beginning of the Government. How much the stern expression of opinion on this subject, both in Congress and out of it, has neutralized the palpable and unremitting efforts which were made to entangle the Court, may never be known. But it is gratifying to believe that the enemies of Reconstruction have been as effectually foiled in this last movement as they were overwhelmingly defeated when they appealed to the suffrages of the people for the vindication of their folly.

THE great speech of Senator MORTON, delivered in the U. S. Senate, a few weeks ago, on Reconstruction, is a masterly and thorough vindication of Republican principles, and is being extensively circulated as a campaign document. The Union League of Philadelphia has ordered 100,000 copies for circulation in this State. It is our purpose to give it entire to our readers, as soon as the press on our columns growing out of the spring sales has been relieved.

THE New York Herald, after several weeks denunication of Gen. GRANT, comes to the conclusion that the Democracy are in a hopeless condition, and expresses the conviction that "no opposition candidate can be brought forth competent to defeat Gen. GRANT." The Herald's views are valuable only as a good political vane, unerringly indicating the popular current.

WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH—READING IN BED.—Widow H. W. Smith, of Lafayette, Indiana, whose practice it had been to read by candle-light, after retiring, was fatally burned one night last week. About 3 o'clock in the morning the servant was awakened by Mrs. Smith, who came and fell across the lounge on which she slept, with her night clothes all in flames. The young woman at once sprang up, and seized a bucket of water standing near, and threw it upon Mrs. Smith and the lounge. The bed where the poor woman and the child slept was also in flames, and the room filled with a stifling smoke. With wonderful presence of mind she next aroused the child, and started her down stairs one way, while she went another and raised the neighbors, who quickly assembled, and, with the aid of buckets of water, soon subdued the flames. Mrs. Smith, who had been most severely burned about the stomach and breast, died in about one hour.

DESPATCHES from Europe state that Admiral Farragut last Friday attended a State dinner given in his honor by King Victor Emmanuel at Florence. It was rumored in Paris that Napoleon was about to change his Cabinet, in deference to the wishes of the Liberal party. A bill was introduced in the British Parliament suspending the writ of habeus corpus.

THAD. STEVENS AND GRANT.

A Washington letter to the New York Independent contains the following:

Of course, everybody is talking about Gen. Grant and the President. How could it be otherwise, since the publication of the famous correspondence between these distinguished persons? The General stands better with Congress than ever before. When the Clerk had finished reading the correspondence in the House, a member went up to Thaddeus Stevens, who was present through the whole reading, and asked him: "Won't it do now to let Grant into our church?" A grin flitted over the old man's face as he replied: "Yes; open the doors and let him in. He is a bolder man than I thought him to be!" The so-called "Radicals" of both Houses are pleased with the tone of General Grant's letters. Men say, "We don't care for the exact facts; there may have been a misunderstanding; but we believe the General intended to do what was right, and we know that he fell into the hands of five or six designing politicians, who tried to use him to advance their interests, and to ruin him so that he could be of no service to the Republicans. They failed in their wicked designs, and now are angry. We stand by the General as against any number of disreputable politicians."

It is entirely useless for such a man as Andrew Johnson to attempt to convict Gen. Grant of falsehood. Nor can the cringing supporters of the President—Randall, Browning, Welles and McCulloch—aid him in his work.

GENERAL NEWS.

THERE seems to be no doubt that the appointment of Minister to England has been tendered General George B. McClellan.

WILLIAM M. Swain, Esq., the founder of the Public Ledger of Philadelphia, and also one of the proprietors of the Baltimore Sun, died in Philadelphia on Sunday.

THE Maryland Legislature has appropriated sufficient money to gather up all the dead Rebels in the State and bury them in Antietam Cemetery.

GENERAL Meade has arrested the ex-Rebel General Burns, Comptroller of the Treasury of Georgia, as an impediment to reconstruction.

THE Louisiana Convention has adopted resolutions asking for the reinstatement of Sheridan as Commander of the Fifth Military District, should Hancock be removed.

GALVESTON despatches say that in Texas the vote upon the question of a Convention has undoubtedly been in favor of the assembling of that body.

HARPER'S Monthly says keenly, that the Democratic party in 1864 represented the spirit of hatred of human rights, under the plea of State rights, and they maintain now the State right to destroy the equal rights of citizens.

REBEL KENTUCKY.—The rebel Legislature of this cowardly State, which occupied the disgraceful attitude of NEUTRALITY during the war—yes neutrality, which in time of peace is unmanly, in time of war cowardly—has just given an exhibition of its status politically. It has elected S. J. M. Major, a major in the rebel army, as public printer; W. N. Haldeman, a bummer and camp follower of the rebel army, has been made public binder, and Dr. A. W. Vallandigham, another rebel, State librarian. Such is rebel Kentucky.—Knoxville Whig.

NEWS OF NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

BALTIMORE.—James S. Sutton, a highly respected citizen of the 13th district, died of hydrophobia on the 11th, having been bitten in the lip by a small dog which came to his residence several months ago, and which he took in his arms; he leaves a wife and four children.

CARROLL.—The new Lutheran Church in Westminister will be dedicated on Sunday next; Rev. Mr. Holloway has resigned the pastorship to take effect May 1, when he goes to Cumberland, Md.

FRANKLIN.—Henry Ward Beecher will lecture in Chambersburg on the 25th instant.—John Brown, Jr., of Fayetteville, was seriously injured on the 1st inst., while loading a log on a wagon, which slipping, caused the tongue to strike Mr. Brown, knocking him speechless.—A Building Association has been organized in Waynesboro'.

FREDERICK.—Henry Crist, formerly of Co. A. Cole's cavalry, was killed in Taylorville, Illinois, on the 15th ult., by a tree falling on him while cutting timber.—On the 2nd inst., Miss Eliza Wiggins, of Frederick, was run against by a boy skating on a pavement with such violence as to knock her down and break her back.

YORK.—A son of Rev. G. P. Weaver, of Wrightsville, aged 4 years, fell on his chin, cutting off a piece of his tongue, which was caught between his teeth.—In York Court last week, Hezekiah Cook obtained a verdict of $2.66 against Daniel Kock for harboring an apprentice, the costs being between $700 and $900.—Conrad Maul, of Hanover, has obtained a Patent for an Improvement in Harvesters.—Geo. W. Ortlip, a flag man on the N. Central road, fell from a train between York and Harrisburg last week, and was killed.

A GOOD RELIGIOUS PAPER.—The growing excellence of THE ADVANCE indicates its right to its name. It does stand in the front rank of our best religious weeklies. The last number is a capital one. Among the noticeable articles are some very interesting "Reminiscences of Wm. B. Bradbury"—telling how the Cantata of Esther was written—by his old associate, C. M. Cady; a trenchant article on "Congregational Singing or none," by Prof. Nathan Sheppard; some spicy "Gossip about Sunday Schools," by a New Haven lady: an admirable review of "The Southern Situation," in a letter from Mobile; juicy editorials on "Seeds of Thought," The "Two Tract Societies," "Twenty-Five Years," "Boston and Chicago," &c.; and "Pigeon-Hole Excerpts," a special feature of THE ADVANCE, which are the essence and marrow of good things.

Published at 25 Lombard Block, Chicago, at $2.50 a year. Specimen copies—containing a tempting premium list—are sent free to any who apply for them.

OF INTEREST TO EVERYBODY.—Since the advent of the Star Shuttle Sewing Machine in the market, about one year ago, the manufacturers have sold about Fifteen Thousand, and such unprecedented testimonials of their intrinsic worth has prompted them to enlarge the machine, and otherwise improve it, that now the Star Shuttle Sewing Machine stands without a rival. Mr. Wilson deserves great credit for assuming the responsibility in putting a lock Stitch Shuttle Sewing Machine in the market at such a low price, in direct competition with all the first-class and high priced machines. 1t

Special Notices.

THERE ARE TWO SPECIAL QUALITIES WHICH DETERMINE and fix the superiority of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S NEW STYLE IMPROVED HAIR RESTORER or DRESSING, in one bottle, over all other preparations for the HAIR. First, the prompt, quick action, great growth, life, and vigor that it is sure to give to the Hair, never failing, by a few applications, to restore Gray or White Hair to its natural color, imparting to the Hair a delightful aroma, fresh, delicate, and unchangeable in any climate. Second, its easy application without any previous preparation of the Hair; without that sticky and disagreeable sulphur odor found and complained of in all other preparations. It never soils the skin or linen. Ladies will find it a standard Toilet luxury to dress their Hair. It retains the Hair in any desired position, and is cooling, healing, and cleansing to the Scalp, removing immediately all scurf, dandruff, and pimples. Price one dollar. Sold by all Druggists. Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve and to cure, is enhanced tenfold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists to a remarkable degree in whose value in curing Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, Pulmonary Affection, and Incipient Consumption is inestimable.

DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY,

STRONG TESTIMONY.

From BENJAMIN WHEELER, Esq., Depot Master of South Royalston, Mass.

"In the spring of 1858 I was severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health that, after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters I was prevailed upon through the influence of a neighbor to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and, before using two bottles, the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor. Thus has this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted."

ADDRESS TO THE NERVOUS and debilitated whose sufferings have been protracted from hidden causes, and whose cases require prompt treatment to render existence desirable. If you are suffering or have suffered from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Are you weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky, or flocky, or is it ropy on settling? Or does a thick scum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspepsia? Are your bowels constipated? Do you have spells of fainting or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling upon this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, moping, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the lustre of your eye as brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits of melancholy? If so, do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia or liver-complaint?

Now, reader, self-abuse, venereal diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses, are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health, make the man. Did you ever think that those bold, defiant, energetic, persevering, successful business-men are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health? You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, of palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business; they don't become sad and discouraged; they are always polite and pleasant in the company of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—none of your downcast looks or any other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep the organs inflamed by running to excess. These will not only ruin their constitutions, but also those they do business with or for.

How many men from badly-cured diseases, from the effects of self-abuse and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease—idiocy, lunacy, paralysis, spinal affections, suicide, and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one.

Diseases of these organs require the use of a diuretic.—HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic, and is a certain cure for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Organic Weakness, Female Complaints, General Debility, and all diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originating and no matter of how long standing.

If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the health and happiness, and that of Posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

EXHIBITION.—An Exhibition, under the auspices and for the benefit of the Franklin Zouaves, will be given in Arendtsville on the evening of the 22d of February.

IMPROVEMENT.—SAMUEL HERBST has put up a large Stable, 42x80 feet, in the rear of the Keystone House. We believe it is his intention to open a Livery Exchange.

CONFIRMED.—The nomination of W. H. LONGWELL, as Postmaster at Pithole City, has been confirmed by the U. S. Senate. We congratulate our young friend and typo on his good luck.

GETTYSBURG ZOUAVES.—Will meet for Drill and Parade on the 22nd inst., at 1 o'clock, P. M., in full dress, with arms and accoutrements in good order—the Company will also shoot for a medal to be presented to the best shot.

PREMIUMS.—Last week the Westminster Building Association sold 3 shares of money at 38 per cent., and 3 shares at 41 per cent. premium. We thought the Gettysburg Building Association was doing a tall business in selling money at 28 per cent. premium, but Westminster can beat us.

BURNED.—On the night of the 7th inst., the building over the "water tank," 2 miles below New Oxford, on the Gettysburg railroad, was consumed by fire. It appears fire had been made in the building the evening previous to keep the water from freezing, and in some way the building took fire.

LECTURE.—The Lecture of Prof. COPPEE, in Agricultural Hall, on the evening of the 11th, on the "use and abuse of the English Language," was delivered before a large and appreciative audience, and fully sustained the high reputation of Prof. C. as one of the first lectures of the day.

ELECTION.—The following persons have been elected officers of the "Mummasburg Mutual Fire Protection Society," for the ensuing year:

President, E. W. Stahle.
Vice President, Michael Deatrich, Sr.
Secretary, James Russell.
Treasurer, H. J. Brinkerhoff.
Executive Committee, Michael Deatrich, Jr., Peter Sholl and Capt. J. H. Plank.

LITERARY ENTERTAINMENT.—We understand that the "Phrenakosmian Society" of Pennsylvania College intend to give an entertainment in Agricultural Hall, on Saturday evening next, the 22d, consisting of Addresses, vocal music, &c. A pleasant time may be expected. No charge will be made for admittance, but a collection will be taken up to defray expenses of rent of hall, light, &c.

APOLOGY.—We must crave the indulgence of our readers for a few weeks in not giving them the usual allotment of news and other matter. This is the season for personal estate advertising and, in order to accommodate our advertising friends, we are necessarily obliged to give them the preference. It will pay, however, to read the advertisements, as they show the business movements and changes taking place in the county.

REPEALED.—The Legislature has passed the bill to repeal the "Gettysburg Asylum" lottery scheme. As the corporators have employed counsel and take the ground that the charter cannot be repealed, we presume the matter will get into the Courts.—In the mean time we advise our readers, who do not wish to be swindled, to stand off.

The bill as passed forfeits the charter to the Commonwealth by reason of the abuse of franchises granted by the Legislature, and authorizes the Auditor General to take such steps as may be advisable to recover all the property, assets and effects of the corporation, by prompt seizure, and to hold the same for the benefit of persons who have suffered losses at the hands of the corporation.

A RECEPTION—With exercises appropriate to the commemoration of Washingtons Birth day, in which the Children will all participate, will be held at the National Orphans' Homestead, on Saturday next, from 2 to 5 P. M. Major CLEETON, of Conn., will be present and give some interesting facts concerning the earnest co-operation of the Sabbath Schools in New England, in behalf of the Homestead. The public of Gettysburg and vicinity are respectfully invited to attend.

Tickets of admission, 25 cents, can be procured at the stores of Messrs. SCHICK, FAHNESTOCK, BUEHLER and HORNER. The proceeds are to be appropriated for the benefit of the Children. Let the house be filled.

DISCHARGED.—It may be recollected that a young man by name of ROBERT C HENSLER, of Columbus, Ky., was arrested in this place some months ago, while on a visit to his relatives, on a charge of purloining goods from the Express office in Columbus. Mr. H. had been for some time the Agent of the Express Company at that place, and during his absence some valuable packages were discovered to be missing.—Suspicion attached to Mr. H., and an Agent of the Company followed him to this place and arrested him. Mr. H. indignantly asserted his innocence, and determined to return at once to Columbus to meet the charges. He had at the time the sympathy of many personal friends, who will be gratified to know that the prosecution has been abandoned.

AT HOME.—By the annexed letter from our old friend and correspondant, "J. S. G.," it will be seen that he is at home again—on a brief visit, however, it being his purpose to return in a few days "down east," to complete the survey of the railroad from Bangor, Maine, into the British Provinces. It will be seen that his sojourn in Her Majesty's dominions has not diminished his interest in public affairs or lessened his indignation over the treachery and infidelity of the President, who, he thinks, should have been long since impeached.

To the Editors of the "Star and Sentinel":

Inclosed is a $2,00 bill, which you will please pass to my credit. And while I am writing I will ask indulgence to state that I am on the third quarter of one hundred years, and have seen something of the "hurly-burly" of politics, and should like to have the confidence to believe that I might yet see my country enjoying peace and prosperity. But, I would ask, how shall peace and prosperity be obtained? One of the first lessons that my mother taught me, was not to cry peace where God said there was no peace.

The Fremont policy is the only true policy. That policy probably would saved Abraham Lincoln's life. That policy would have saved thousands of the lives of our young men, and millions of dollars of the people's money. The timid, "split-the-difference" policy has filled the country with mourners and invalids, and laid a burden on the nation that will probably last as long as we are a nation. And what is the prospect? We have a traitor and rebel sympathizer in the chair of State, with a class of men chosen by ourselves who have not the courage to put him out, although they have the power and evidence enough of his guilt to justify the measure. If his first veto message did not furnish evidence enough to convict him of treason, I should like to know what would. He refused to sign a bill that passed both Houses of Congress because it was passed in the absence of eleven States, when those States had gone out of the Union by force, had set up a government of their own, had invaded our territory and done everything they could in the nature of war—and yet Congress could not pass a legal act in their absence. The idea is too ridiculous to be entertained in even a grog shop.

This hesitating policy is always paralyzing—and the idea that the people are not ready for radical measures is a delusion.—The people are always in advance of the office-holders. The office-holders and office-seekers are opposed to the impeachment of Andrew Johnson, but the great body of the people would have been glad to have seen him ousted from the place he holds, a year ago, and they will not be satisfied for him to remain a stumbling block till March 1869.—I feel gratified when I reflect that nine of the Pennsylvania Republican members had courage enough to stand up to the mark on the impeachment question, while five were too chicken hearted to vote for it, but cast their vote against impeachment. One whom I helped to elect to the place that he holds, I regret to say, backed down—poor fellow.

I have no doubt that a majority of the Supreme Court are in sympathy with the rebellion and will do all that they can to secure the prominent rebels, and shelter themselves and bewilder Congress by long winded arguments made up of ambiguous phrases in the name of law, and thereby introduce sophistry instead of common sense.

J. S. GITT.

BUGLARY AND ARREST.—On Tuesday night last, between 9 and 10 o'clock, the Jewelry store of Messrs. SOPER & MCCARTNEY, on York street, was entered during the tempory absence of the proprietors, and three watches, worth about $75, stolen from one of the cases. The loss was not noticed until next morning, when the services of detective ROUZER were called in to work up the case. During the morning, officer ROUZER, learned that two strangers had been in town the preceding day, one of whom under pretence of being blind had been disposing of songs, and had put up at the Battlefield Hotel, but who had suddenly decamped before midnight, and at once he proceeded to look them up. They were tracked to Littlestown, where it was found that they disposed of the watches at Hemler's tavern, and taken the morning train for Baltimore. Mr. ROUZER immediately made for Hanover, the nearest telegraph station, and telegraphed to chief of Police in Baltimore, following himself in the next train. Reaching Baltimore, he learned two men, answering to the description, had arrived in the morning train, but that the telegram had reached Baltimore a half hour too late, the parties having inquired for and gone to the Washington depot. Mr. ROUZER believing the parties to be old offenders, who adopted this ruse to mislead pursuit, insisted that they were still in Baltimore, and had officers detailed by the Chief of Police to assist him in the search. At a late hour of the night, after visiting numberless cribs resorted to by thieves, the parties were found in one of these low dens, arrested and brought back to Gettysburg next day. They prove to be old offenders, going by the name of Henry Reed alias Rue, and James Elliott, one hailing from Philadelphia and the other from Baltimore, and both of whom have been in the Penitentiary several times. Elliott is blind in one eye, and nearly so in the other. He carried about with him a printed statement of his being blind, and that he bore a good character, &c. The wonder is that they did not help themselves more liberally, as the case from which the watches were taken contained other watches with a large amount of valuable jewelry. Officer ROUZER deserves much credit for the skill and persistance with which he worked up the case.

ARREST.—Last week officer WEIKERT arrested a stranger, passing by name of JOHN COOK, and had him committed on a charge of larceny. He had been about town for several days, but without fear of the law, undertook "feloniously to take and carry away" two umbrellas, the property of the Senior editor of this paper, and dispose of them.—He had been to the residence of Mr. HARPER, for aid, representing himself to be a printer in distress, and after receiving assistance the rascal carried off the two umbrellas. They were not missed, but it so happened that one of them bore Mr. H.'s name, which led to suspicion. Officer WEIKERT got on his track, arrested the scamp, recovered the umbrellas, and returned them to Mr. H., which was the first intimation the latter had of having been robbed.

SALES.—Col. J. H. McClellan has sold 10 acres of land, on Seminary ridge, in borough limits, to Isaac Deardorff, for $1,000.

Dr. F. E. Wandersloot, on the 8th inst., sold at public sale, his property on Baltimore street, in this place, at $4 375—Messrs. J. W. C O'Neal, W. A. Duncan and E. G. Fahnestock purchasers.

Isaac Deardorff has sold his farm, in Cumberland township, to John Braught, of Mifflin county—312 acres, at $14,000.

Michael B. Miller has sold a tract of twelve acres, with improvements, in Mountjoy township, to David Clapsaddle, for $1,000. Mr. Miller has purchased from John Cress, a house and seven acres of land, in the same township, at $600 cash.

CHANGE OF COURTS.—The Senate has passed the Bill, prepared by MCCONAUGHY, changing the time of holding the Courts in Adams county. The Bill provides for a Court of one week in April and August, commencing on third Monday as heretofore, and a Court to continue two weeks in November and January, commencing on the fourth Monday. The Bill is intended to facilitate the criminal and civil business of the county and save the necessity and expense of special Courts, and was prepared at the request of the members of the Bar and Judges of the Court.

COLORED CELEBRATION.—On Wednesday last the "Sons of Aaron," a benevolent association composed of colored men, paraded our streets, with martial music, each member wearing a blue sash, white gloves, and the regalia of the Order. The celebration was in commemoration of the birthday of ABRAHAM LINCOLN, the great Emancipator. In passing the "STAR AND SENTINEL" office, three hearty cheers were given, as also at other points in town. The members departed themselves with marked propriety, and the procession attracted much attention.

BORDER RELIEF.—The House Committee, at Harrisburg, last week, after hearing Senator MCCONAUGHY in behalf of the citizens of the border counties claiming relief for damages sustained during the war by Rebel invasions, reported the Bill to the House with a favorable recommendation.—We learn that the Committee had determined to report the bill unfavorably, but after Mr. MCCONAUGHY's able and thorough vindication of the claims, changed their purpose. We have not learned what the prospects are for the passage of the bill, but it is to be hoped that this long delayed measure of justice will be accorded by the Legislature. The border counties had to bear the whole brunt of the injuries resulting from their exposed condition, by reason of Rebel raids and the battles of July 1863. The defeat of the Rebel army at Gettysburg, saved the State from Rebel spoliation, and the State should indemnify our people for the heavy losses then incurred.

FRIGHTENED OFF.—On Monday night a week HAHN's warehouse, on the Gettysburg railroad, was entered by two thieves, a comrade remaining in a sleigh close by, but decamped without taking any goods—being disturbed by the approach of one of the hands employed there, whose attention had been attracted by the sleigh. On the approach of the latter, an alarm was given, when the two rascals rushed from the warehouse, jumped in the sleigh, and drove off.

MORNING GLORY STOVE.—Great improvements in Stoves have been made within the last few years by scientific men, who have directed their attention to the work of securing the greatest amount of heat from a given quantity of fuel, and it is now admitted on all hands that the base-burning stoves are beyond all question the most economical and comfortable. Of the base-burning stoves, it is also now admitted by all who have tested them, that the MORNING GLORY is equally beyond question the MOST ECONOMICAL, and most desirable—consuming the least coal, easily managed, free from dust, and producing a uniform heat which is equally diffused throughout the room. Having a mill-grate, they never clog up with cinders, and being once started can be burnt the entire winter without cleaning and without letting the fire go out. They are likewise ornamental, and equally adapted for parlor, chamber, office, hotel and hall. Over FIFTY of these stoves have been sold in Gettysburg and vicinity this winter. They can be seen in daily use at the EAGLE HOTEL and the WASHINGTON HOUSE, and also at the "STAR AND SENTINEL" office.

☞Col. C. H. BUEHLER, at the corner of Railroad and Carlisle streets, is the sole Agent for the MORNING GLORY, for Adams county. Call and examine them.

☞Also, on hand a large variety of COOKING and PARLOR STOVES, COAL, LUMBER, Washing Machines, Tin Ware &c. Call and examine.

NO MEDICINE ever appeared with stronger vouchers for its general and substantial excellence than the Peruvian Syrup. Invalids, especially those suffering from dyspepsia and dibility, should send to J. P. Dinsmore, 36 Dey street, New York, for a pamphlet (sent free), concerning this remarkable remedy. 1t

The Farmer and Housekeeper.

ASPARAGUS BEDS.

As these are a "life-long institution," it is very important that proper care should be taken in their construction, and though it may be true that "all's well that ends well," still there is no possible chance of an asparagus bed's ending well if badly begun. The following method of preparing and planting the beds will, we think, be found as economical and profitable as any that has the merit of being a good one:

Dig out a trench four and a-half feet wide and sixteen inches deep, and as long as desired; fill in with the earth taken out and manure or rich compost, in equal proportions, to within four inches of the surface.—Plant the roots in rows one foot apart, and the same distance apart in the rows, then cover with the virgin soil and compost until the bed is level, and let it stand until the succeeding fall, at which time put on two inches of manure and earth, rounding the bed so as to be higher in the middle than at the sides.

The second spring a little asparagus may be cut from the beds, but they should not be cut closely until the third year. Give a dressing of salt every spring and of manure every fall, and the beds will last half a century.

Make the beds as early in the spring as the weather will permit.—Planter and Farmer.

GREASING WAGONS.—But few people are aware that they do wagons and carriages more injury by greasing too plentifully than in any other way. A well-made wheel will endure common wear from ten to twenty-five years, if care is taken to use the right kind and proper amount of grease; but if this matter is not attended to, they will be used up in five or six years. Lard should never be used on a wagon, for it will penetrate the hub and work its way out around the tenons of the spokes, and spoil the wheel. Tallow is the best lubricator for wood axletrees, and castor oil for iron.

Just enough grease should be applied to the spindle of a wagon to give it a light coating; this is better than more, for the surplus put on will work out at the ends, and be forced by the shoulder-bands and nut-washers into the hub around the outside of the boxes.

To oil an axletree, first wipe the spindle clean with a cloth wet with spirits of turpentine, and then apply a few drops of castor oil near the shoulder and end. One teaspoonful is sufficient for the whole.

TRIMMING VINES.—A correspondent of the New England Farmer, having experience, trims during the period of dormancy, from November to February; prefers to trim when the wood is frozen, with a saw; would never use axe or hatchet; the pruning should commence when the trees are quite young, and only the limbs taken out that seem to have dried up and become useless.

MAKING BOOTS WATER TIGHT.—It may be of interest to many readers to know how to preserve their boots and make them at the same time pliable and water-proof. It can be done in this way: In a pint of the best winter-strained lard oil, dissolve a piece of paraffine the size of a hickory nut, aiding the solution with a gentle heat, say 130 or 140 deg. F. The readiest way to get pure paraffine is to take a piece of paraffine candle. Rub this solution on your boots a bout once a month; they can be blacked in the meantime. If the oil should make the leather too stiff, decrease the proportion of paraffine, and vice versa. A correspondent has used this for eight years past, and his boots have lasted two winters, the uppers always remaining soft, and never cracking. He tried beeswax, rosin, tar, &c., but never found any other preparation half so good.—Scientific American.

A LITTLE MORE CULTIVATING.—We never harrow enough; we never cultivate enough. Too mellow ground cannot be made. The mellower the better. And yet we harrow simply to cover the grain, unless the land is very rough. This is all wrong, wrong. Let the cultivator be used freely, followed by the drag freely. Let them swim through the soil. Some ground needs frequent plowing in addition to the cultivating. You cannot pulverize too much; you cannot pulverize enough. "But there is no time to do all this." True. And here is the great difficulty; we have too much land; our work has got the start of us—and it will keep it always where there is much of it. Better cultivate one acre thoroughly than two in the usual manner—for it will yield as much as two without manure, unless your land is in a very mealy condition, which is rarely the case. Harrow more; cultivate more.—Rural World.

CUTTING AND GRINDING HAY.—Owing to the high price of grain, many of our farmers are feeding it sparingly this winter. It will soon be time to commence a more liberal use of it to prepare teams for the busy spring time. Cut hay or straw, mixed with meal, or wheat bran and shorts, is much more economical than to feed whole grain and hay. In Europe, hay is sometimes ground, and it would pay farmers well, here, in the leisure time of winter, when it sells for over twenty dollars per ton, and probably when it sells at less figures. Americans have yet many lessons to learn in economy.

CHICKEN CHOLERA.—As numerous complaints have reached us quite recently, from farmers and others, in regard to the ravages of chicken cholera, we subjoin the following remedy, which we find in the report of the Agricultural Department at Washington: "For the last two years my chickens have been dying of cholera; even turkeys have died the same way. When I notice the hens begin to droop and look sleepy I give them three or four teaspoonfuls of strong alum water, and repeat the next day. I also mix the feed (say corn meal), with strong alum water, feeding twice a day for two or three days, afterwards once a week. Since I have practiced the above I have not lost any."

SELECTING A COW.—It is sometimes the case that the best judges will be deceived. A cow of very promising appearance, coarse in the neck, large boned, and second or third-rate milk marks generally, will, now and then, turn out to be first-rate, while another with these largely developed, fine in the head and neck, and promising every way, will prove unsatisfactory. But a failure in this case is rare. Let the head be light, the forehead broad, the horn rather thin and clear, the eye clear and prominent, the neck thin, and the fore-quarters rather light, the back straight, the hind quarters well developed, wide over the loins, the carcase deep, the udder coming forward and well shaped, the skin soft to the touch, the teats well set, not too large nor too small, the tail long and thin, like a whip-lash. Such a cow ought to be a good one.—Plowman.

SHEEP.—Sheep are wintering in Illinois very well this season, it is announced—a marked contrast with last year. This season they went into winter quarters in fine condition; last season was exactly the opposite.—A large and very excellent wool clip may be expected the coming spring. There are no deaths among the sheep thus far, while last year deaths were reported on all sides.

"I DO not say," remarked an old lady, "that Jones is a thief; but I do say if his farm joined mine I would not try to keep sheep."

Watches for the Million!

ARRANDALE & CO'S GREAT WATCH CLUB.

EVERYBODY needs a good watch, and wishes to get it at the lowest possible price; a horde of swindlers knowing this have contrived various ingenious devices to get people's money, and then either fail to send a watch, or send one that is worthless as a time-keeper. ARRANDALE & CO. have now perfected arrangements by which, for the small sum of $10, a good and reliable watch may be CERTAINLY obtained. They have formed a GREAT WATCH CLUB on the following plan. Certificates containing the numbers of all the watches named in our wholesale list (which is sent to all applicants) are mixed up, enclosed in envelopes, and sold for 25 cents each.—Every certificate is WARRANTED to be for a watch, and as will be seen on reference to the list, none are of less value than Ten Dollars, whilst some are worth $300.—We undertake to send any watch drawn whatever may be its value for $10, and in order that every one may absolutely depend upon getting a first class time-keeper, we guarantee that every purchaser of One Dollar's worth of certificates shall receive at least one for watch No. 533 on our wholesale list, sent post free, which is a first-class patent lever, a handsome and reliable watch, in sterling silver hunting case, and usually sold for $40. You will certainly get such a watch; and, besides, you may get a Gold Chronometer worth $500. We sell the certificates as follows: One for 25 cents; Three for 50 cents; Six for $1; and Twenty for $3. To those sending $1, we will send a handsome chain gratis. To those sending $3, we will send a gold chain warranted not to tarnish in 20 years.—Parties getting up larger clubs will receive liberal presents, particulars of which may be learned on application. As it is our intention to do a strictly honorable business, and to insure our customers from liability to loss, we will send our watches, if desired, without money, instructing the Express agent to collect only on delivery. If we are desired to forward watches by mail, the money must be sent us by Bank Draft or Post Office Order, and it will then be at our risk. We will then register the package at our post office, and if lost will re-place it free of charge. If any watch sent is not approved, it may be returned and the money will be refunded. The reputation of our firm, which has been established for five years, and is well known in every part of the country, we trust will be deemed a sufficient guarantee that we will faithfully perform all we contract to do. Patent Gum Scrubber.

THE advantages of the Scrubber over all others is—1st, that it will do the work in one half the time usually employed; 2nd, that it requires much less water and does the work much better; 3rd, that it will rinse and dry the floor at the same time and save all the labor of wiping up with a cloth; 4th, that it will last a great many years, by occasionally renewing the Gums, which can be done very easily and at very trifling expense.
